Donahey Defeats Fess Decisively; Davey Wins Over Brown

500 PRECINCTS OUT, DEMOCRAT MARGIN GROWS

Former Governor Unseats G. O. P. Senator by 350,000 Votes

DAVEY IS 50,000 AHEAD OF BROWN

Figures on State and Judicial Tickets Also Listed

COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 7.—Ohio voters soundly rebuked Sen. Simeon D. Fess, Republican general of the anti-new deal forces, nearly complete unofficial tabulations showed today.

With only 500 of the state's 8,559 precincts yet to report, Fess trailed Vic Donahey, three-times Democratic governor who gave reserved endorsement of the Roosevelt policies, by nearly 375,000 votes and the margin was gradually lengthening.

Davey Wins, Too

That stupendous tide of Donahey ballots also carried Martin L. Davey, Democrat, into the governor's office with a Democratic legislature to support him. The Kent race was slightly less than 50,000 votes ahead of his Republican opponent, Clarence J. Brown of Blanchester, with a corresponding number of precincts missing.

The tabulations included complete returns from 71 of Ohio's 88 counties. More than half of the missing precincts were in Cuyahoga county (Cleveland) where both Donahey and Davey ran far ahead of their opponents.

SALEM'S FOUR VOTE ENTRIES IN EVEN FIGHT

Ballantine and Yates Are Given Majorities in City, County

BURNS, TAYLOR WIN HERE, LOSE COUNTY

City Yields Majorities to Democrats Davey and Donahey

Two of Salem's four county candidates in yesterday's election were voted into office as the city, following the state and national trends, elected a large number of Democratic aspirants, although the total vote, 3,280, was comparatively light in view of the general interest.

Sheriff Frank Ballantine was given a 500 majority over Harry Gosney of Columbiana here and also finished ahead in the county T. V. Yates, councilman, topped the Republican majorities in the county and was also given a 500 edge here over Charles McLaughlin of Wellsville, his Democratic rival.

Russell Burns, Democratic aspirant for the treasurer, topped all individual vote totals in Salem, but lost to George Boice of East Liverpool as returns from the southern end of the county piled up.

The fourth Salem candidate, J. John Taylor, Democrat, seeking a seat in the Ohio assembly, likewise was accorded a decisive majority in Salem but failed to annex sufficient votes in other sections, especially the south end, to finish ahead in the county.

The city favored Davey over Brown by 151 votes and Donahey over Fess by the larger figure of 732.

The tickets showed plenty of evidence of scratching.

F.D.R.'S FORCES ADD STRENGTH

G. O. P. Senators Toppled; Gains Are Made in House

(By Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 7.—A new deal sweep that apparently carried away even that solid rock of Republicanism, David Reed of Pennsylvania, gave to Franklin D. Roosevelt and his party today a victory unprecedented in the history of "off-year" elections.

Count Results

Far from losing ground, as a party usually does two years after a presidential landslide, the jubilant Democrats counted these results of yesterday's elections:

1. Senator David A. Reed, of Pennsylvania, quiescence of G. O. P. conservatism and unrelenting enemy of the new deal, ran amazingly behind Joseph P. Guffey, Democrat, who hailed President Roosevelt as "God's inspired servant."

2. Topping a half-dozen Republican senators, the Democrats did fail to increase their strength from 60 to 70 out of a total membership of 95.

3. Apparently, they not only were holding the smashing majority of 196 in the house of representatives but were in a fair way to increase it a few seats. Almost every one had figured the party to lose at least some seats in the house.

Upton Sinclair, Socialist-turned-Democrat, whose unprecedented race for the California governorship stirred a host of more conservative folk to something like a frenzy, lost by a substantial margin, to Frank P. Merriam, Republican. Sinclair got a cold shoulder from the Roosevelt administration; Merriam has said he would "co-operate" with the new deal.

While a weakly functioning and almost demoralized Republican party staggered under the loss of old guardmen, it was not without some consolation. Some regulars won, notably Senator Vandenberg, of Michigan, who took a middle-ground attitude toward the new deal.

The return to the senate of "Young Bob" La Follette, progressive supporter of the administration in Wisconsin was understood to have been welcome information to the Democratic high command. He beat John M. Callahan, known as a "Smith" Democrat.

Capture Six Seats

At an early hour today, the Democrats had captured six senate seats held by Republicans in West Virginia, Missouri, Ohio, Rhode Island, Connecticut and Indiana. Indications were they would reduce G. O. P. senate strength to the lowest in

MAHONING GOES TO DEMOCRATS

Will Capture Four, Possibly Six, Court House Positions

YOUNGSTOWN, Nov. 7.—An avalanche of straight Democratic ballots swept the Democratic party to almost complete victory in Mahoning county yesterday.

For the first time within the memory of some of the oldest inhabitants, there will be at least four and possibly six Democratic office holders in the court house.

On the face of incomplete returns it is safe to say that:

Dr. D. H. Hauser (D) beats Dr. M. E. Hayes (R) for coroner with nearly 10,000 margin, terminating 14 years of service for Hayes.

Ralph Elser (D) will beat Sheriff W. J. Engelhardt (R) out of a second term by about 3,000 votes.

Thomas Bees (D) will win over County Commissioner Amos Melinger (R) by about 3,000 votes.

James M. Elliott of Sebring (D) will probably win by about 1,000 votes over Recorder Fred Griffiths (R).

On the basis of returns from 246 precincts Clerk of Court James A. Green seems to be a winner.

Only two Republican office holders are likely to be returned as winners. They are:

John J. Arnold, who will probably serve a third term, winning over W. A. Winger of Austintown by a narrow margin.

George P. Lewis, who will certainly win over Robert C. Boylan for a second term in the treasurer's office.

With the crashing defeat of the Republicans in the party went the entire Mahoning County representation in the legislature at Columbus.

Clingan Jackson, Les Heller and John T. Hewitt are assured of victory. Maurice Lipscher and Ralph J. Seidner are likely to defeat Frank Agnew, and J. Eugene Roberts is certain of defeat.

225 precincts out of 269 in Mahoning County.

Governor — Davey (D) 29,496; Brown (R) 21,934; Ford (C) 388.

Lieut. Governor — Mosier (D) 26,675; Herbert (R) 20,291; Langston (C) 400.

Sec. of State — Myers (D) 27,309; Braden (R) 20,943; Sivert (C) 385.

WHICH WAY NOW?

There is active suspicion in some quarters concerning the Roosevelt administration's recent trend toward moderation. Why, it is asked, were bankers and businessmen placated just before the election? What caused Prof. Tugwell, Secretary Wallace and the more ambitious reformers to be squelched?

Perhaps it was to win as many votes from the borderline of the opposition as possible. If so, it was a good scheme. The new deal does not need and probably could not get additional support from citizens who voted against Herbert Hoover in 1932. It does need and can get some support, however, from those who voted for Mr. Hoover.

It is a possibility that the stage was set for their benefit. For a time at least an impression of old-fashioned surroundings was given, notably by the public embrace between certain accommodating bankers and the administration a few days ago. This surely did not fail to convince numerous old stories that all was right with the world again.

If these things happened just before the election by design, it seems probable the post-election period also may be covered with some kind of plan. Either the Roosevelt administration will continue to bear the moderate aspect it has taken recently, or it will change its aspect for some other purpose. The moderate aspect seems probable.

The new congress, most experts predict, will be a sideshow of wild men, each trying to be the wildest. President Roosevelt will need all the conservative support he can muster to keep them from turning things inside out in their zeal to make everything over. Congressmen are quick imitators. Didn't the big chief get votes by trying new stunts?

Tragically, the big chief seems to be ready to settle down just when his numerous admirers at the other end of Pennsylvania avenue are getting the hang of the game. Both as politician and thinker, apparently, he is beginning to incline to the right. But the momentum of the thing he started in 1932 may be stronger than he can encounter safely. Mr. Roosevelt may have to choose between yielding to an over-zealous congress or losing a vast deal of his popular support by assuming an attitude of restraint.

SHORT CUT TO SATISFACTION

Chins were held higher and backs were straighter than usual all day Tuesday. There's something most voters take away from the polls with them which can't be duplicated in any other place.

Most of it is satisfaction with performance of a duty. But it's more than ordinary satisfaction like the kind which is gained by carrying out the ashes. Voting is one of the higher duties.

Despite a seeming disposition to hold it lightly, Americans do take seriously the duty of expressing their opinions in the operation of government. They are not too far away from the revolution to understand, even though dimly, the privilege which is their heritage.

Day in and day out, year after year, they are informed of the mistakes of their system of government, its inequalities, weaknesses and corruptions. It seems sometimes there is nothing else to tell. All government must be bad.

In the United States, fortunately, good government isn't news. Americans, furthermore, are not forbidden to speak or even know about bad government. Their dissatisfaction, far from being unhealthy, is a sign of improvement. They are hopeful of doing better. Every national election is an invitation to reach once more for the better government which lies always just ahead. Americans have succeeded in being realistic about government, but as yet they haven't turned cynical. If that should happen record votes would not occur spontaneously. Voters would have to be prodded out by force to go to the polls. There would be no faith in ballots. Democracy is still working in 1934. Thanks to the examples of certain nations which have let it fail, Americans like it better than ever.

With so many paroled convicts adding new and more serious offenses to their records, the public is probably beginning to wonder who is supposed to pardon the pardon boards.

THE STARS SAY

For Thursday, November 8

According to the lunar transits bearing rule on the affairs of this day there should be a fair degree of activity and progress, with contacts with "big business" or important personages under encouraging way. Superiors, or those in power or authority, may be approached for preferment, favors, or more substantial and friendly aid or more substantial and friendly aid or co-operation.

If It Is Your Birthday

Those whose birthday it is may find affairs moving along in fairly progressive channels, with the support and friendship of those in places of power and authority ready to lend substantial support or friendly aid. A child born on this day should be well endowed for success in business or the professions, being versatile, clever and ambitious to an extent, doing well where quick judgments and friendly support are required.

O. O. McINTYRE

NEW YORK DAY BY DAY

NEW YORK, Nov. 7.—Henry Collins Brown reveals interesting history of the metropolis in his new volume on old New York. One learns the Dutch called Broadway "De Heere Street," the High Wagon Road. And the English called it the Broadway after their old English village.

He has discovered that it was at No. 1 Broadway, once old Koch's Tavern, that the Martini cocktail was born. Hawthorne, Penmore Cooper and Thackeray have paid tribute to Koch's. The first theatre was in John Street. Washington often attended performances with the First Lady.

The first newspaper was The Gazette. The editor could have been a great help to the Colonists in their hour of need. But he was muzzled by a British subsidy. In the formative days of Manhattan a sea voyage to Europe could be made in ten weeks if the winds were favorable.

Broadway always had its excitement. An early newspaper paragraph read: "Yesterday a respectable looking citizen crossing the Commons (City Hall Park) was attacked by a vicious cow which pursued him to the corner of Beekman street where it grinded him to death."

Broadway's floating dice games are getting bigger and flatter. They are moored for only 12 hours at their various landings and the players know the stops just a half hour before actual play begins. Sometimes they take an entire floor of one of the shadier hotels. When Lou Holtz steps into the game, now and then there is a collective shiver. He is reputedly $100,000 ahead. George White, Holtz's night life chronicler, does occasional fading but not so luckily.

Corey Ford has become one of literature's most aggressive fishermen—ranging from salmon in the Columbia to shotgun harpooning in Alaska. Every time he sells a magazine piece—which is increasingly frequent—he goes on a shopping spurge for rods, rods and flies. Equipment that once filled a closet in his New Hampshire retreat now fills a room. Other rabid fishermen among the literati include Rex Beach, Irvin Cobb, Courtney Riley Cooper, Ben Ames Williams, Ernest Hemingway, Peter B. Kyne, John Taintor Foote and Bud Kelland.

Cartoonists are almost invariably disciples of Isaac Walton. Briggs, Webster, Enright, Tad, Goldberg, Herb Roth of the moderns as well as Rogers MacCauley, Bushnell and Homer Davenport of the old-timers, took advantage of every opportunity to get away from things and fish. Thomas Nast was also a devout caster.

Edward Orleans is the pseudonym for Howard D. Wheeler, who writes syndicated sermonettes for newspapers. Wheeler was once editor of Everybody's during its flourish. While his ideas are quite original, he pursues the path blazed by Dr. Frank Crane. Orleans seems the only person successfully to fill the shoes since Crane's passing. Dr. Crane was a journalistic phenomenon of his period. A struggling Nebraska preacher, he saw the great audience he might command, could he reach them daily, with a syndicated capsule sermon. Next to Arthur Brisbane, he became the most highly paid newspaper writer of his period. Of syndicated writers, he loved his work most. He wrote so much that at the time of his passing in Los Angeles he had enough daily articles to last six years.

Dr. Crane liked newspaper folk and his influence among the guild was quietly productive of excellent results. He played poker with them and got a high-stake game shucked down so nobody could lose more than a quarter an evening. He also in miraculous manner jockeyed a hard drinking crew of hard liquor drinkers to consume nothing but beer at the weekly session. How he did it no one knows but he did and not one of the gang would think of missing that Saturday night game. A benign, silver-haired gentleman, Dr. Crane, likely with his tongue in his cheek, always appeared at the poker sestas wearing a flaming red four-in-hand.

I crossed her path this afternoon in the East 50's as she stepped from a smart car. She wore a tamboourine cap of heavy plush and pajamas of gray broadcloth edged with fur, pertly reminding of Lucienne Boyer as she sauntered into a fashionable tobacco shop. Through the windows photographers ranged their cameras inside. That's the way things are these days. Get all excited and find out it's just an ad.

Fatigue Is Cause Of This Disease

COLITIS APPEARS to have become more common in the past few years. Perhaps this can be attributed in a great measure to the general unrest and tension in the world.

Colitis should not be confused with a similar condition called "irritable colon." Though the symptoms of the disturbances are similar the treatment is quite different.

Irritable colon is often the result of a strenuous and fatiguing existence. It can usually be traced to excessive fatigue, overtaxed nerves, anxiety, worry and other emotional disturbances.

Inflamed appendix, gall bladder and centers of infection somewhere in the body, are other causes of irritable colon. At times it can be traced to carelessness about food and in the eating habits. It is especially common among persons who eat at irregular hours, skip their food and neglect their health habits.

The Symptoms
The sufferer from colitis first notices mucus in his stools. The mucus increases in amount and closely resembles shreds of membrane. If the condition is neglected blood appears and the sufferer then complains of intense colicky pain in the abdomen. Continued neglect of this condition leads to general weakness, extreme nervousness, irritability and restlessness.

Unfortunately, the victim of colitis usually neglects the disease or resorts to unwise self-medication. Neglect of colitis which is often difficult to cure. As a rule, medications are of little value and relief is only obtained when the underlying cause is discovered and removed.

It is always a good plan to consult a physician. He will advise as to proper diet and medication needed. Since each case presents a different problem, no definite rule can be applied to the treatment of colitis. It is a good plan to avoid laxatives, mineral waters, fried and greasy foods, and an excessive use of salt, peppers, spices and condiments. The diet should be simple, nutritious and consisting of foods that aer easily digested.

Uses of X-Ray
The diseased intestine should be well regulated and cleansed at periodic intervals. This is best accomplished by a daily hot or warm irrigation taken just before retiring. In no case should cathartics or other drastic drugs be used.

Beneficial results are often obtained by irrigating the bowel with oil. When oil is used it should be retained for at least ten hours. During this time the patient should remain in bed, avoiding all activity. Cases of colitis that do not respond to these simple rules may require other forms of treatment. A special examination called "sigmoidoscopy" may be necessary. In this examination the interior of the intestine and lining of the wall are visualized.

It may be advisable to have an X-ray examination of the intestinal tract taken. These examinations will be suggested by your physician if you suffer from persistent colitis.

GIRL IN THE FAMILY

BY BEATRICE BURTON

glanced up at Susan again. The smile was more real. He suspected John of being in secret, and the girl had saddened him. He had been having an overdose of love.

"I feel very queer—very dizzy," she heard him say to Aunt Edna who got up from the table to try to coax him in to dinner. "I couldn't eat a bite, thanks."

It was the first time that Susan had known him to refuse to come to a meal and she watched him close the door on Aunt Edna with troubled eyes. The flush seemed to have deepened on one side of his face and he fumbled for the door handle.

He was still in his study when Susan came home from the drug-store at half past seven and carried the bottle of medicated oil upstairs to Aunt Edna who was sitting beside Lottie's bed. Lottie was crying again as she lay propped against the pillows, and Susan knew as she stepped into the close air of the room that she and Aunt Edna had been talking about her.

"Susan," she looked up at her niece with wet and puffy eyes. "You can't set yourself against your own class, your own family."

"John's with me in this, and so are the Cullens," said Susan sturdily. "They all know Allen, and they like him—and just as soon as you're both over your sick spells I'm going to marry him."

"Why be in such a hurry about it? You can seat yourself on a rubbish heap for life any time!" retorted Lottie.

Susan went into her own room and took off her wraps. The room was dark and through the windows she could see Center Street blue-white under the moon, the lighted windows of the little shops across the street pinkish yellow rectangles in the darkness. She stood there telling herself that she had done exactly the right thing that night. It would have been cruel to leave the house with Allen, but she had made it clear to him that she would leave just as soon as the two women were able to look after themselves. After all, she did owe them something.

As she stood there she heard a sudden terrifying sound from downstairs. It sounded like a chair or a table going over onto the floor, and then there came the thud of something else falling.

She stood dead still for a second and then rushed down to the lower hall. "Uncle Worthy?" she called as she went. She knocked on his door but there was no answer; and after an instant she turned the knob and went in.

Her uncle was lying on the floor with his big head rolled to one side, his eyes closed and his face swollen and purple. The swivel chair was overturned beside him, and the "bitters" bottle lay on its side on the desk, staining the blotter and some loose papers with the brownish fluid that trickled from its neck.

As Susan dropped to her knees beside him Aunt Edna and Lottie came down the hall. "What is it, Susan? What's happened?" — Oh, my dear Lord!" It was Aunt Edna's voice and it rose like a scream as she saw Uncle Worthy's prostrate body. "Get the doctor! Get Doctor Kendall, Lottie! Don't stand there—get him!" With one hand pressed to her swollen knee she knelt on the floor beside him. "He must have struck his head on the corner of the desk as he fell," Susan said, holding her handkerchief to a dark mark on her uncle's temple. "It's bleeding." Aunt Edna looked up at the corner of the desk as if it could tell her what had happened and Susan's eyes followed hers.

A pink glass paper weight stood very near the edge of the desk top, and under it lay a large sheet of writing paper, Uncle Worthy had used.

Marlene Dietrich's "Scarlet Empress" At State Tonight in Big Double Bill

THE American screen version of "The Scarlet Empress," with Marlene Dietrich as its star, and Josef von Sternberg is scheduled at the State for Thursday only. This film has been much publicized, both favorably and not so favorably.

Gorgeous Settings

The film tells the story of the rise of one Sophia Frederica, German girl in the Russian court of Russia's first Catherine.

Marlene Dietrich

Based on the diary from the hand of the glamorous Catherine herself, the picture is authentic in every detail. After marrying Grand Duke Peter of Russia by her own shrewdness, determination and allure Catherine became at once the noblest and most notorious of the world's tsarinas. How she ruled everyone with an iron hand yet couldn't rule herself is told on the screen as two centuries roll back and Catherine the Great lives again. All the splendor, the pomp, the barbaric civilization of decadent Russia, the bizarre extravagance of the court are all brought superbly to the screen by von Sternberg and the cast herself. If the story fails at times to catch the pace it should, it is a magnificent spectacle to watch at any rate.

In support of the glamorous Dietrich are John Lodge, a newcomer who plays Count Alexei, the one man Catherine really loved, Louise Dresser, Sam Jaffe, Maria Sieber (Miss Dietrich's own little girl who plays Catherine as a child), C. Aubrey Smith, Gavin Gordon, Ruthelma Stevens and Olive Tell.

Tonight's Features

TONIGHT the State shows an interesting double bill that combines a mystery thriller from the pen of Earl Derr Biggers and a romantic comedy. The first is entitled "Charlie Chan in London" with Warner Oland again portraying the part of the clever Chinese detective, Chan. This time he is beset by a young girl to save her brother, sentenced to hang in 65 hours for a murder she knows he did commit. When Chan is convinced she is correct he sets out to save the man with such a short time before the law is scheduled to take its course. Then with only eight hours remaining Charlie sets a trap that catches the real murderer in a very unusual manner—a fox hunt in which Charlie pursues his human quarry across the countryside.

Jimmy Dunn and Alice Faye are teamed for the first time in the second feature "365 Nights in Hollywood" a clever satire on Hollywood stars and beginners. Frank

Part of McKinley Home Is Torn Away

(By International News Service)

CANTON — The fate of the McKinley home still rests in the hands of Canton citizens, but the fate of a section of the famous homestead's front porch has already been decided by one of its citizens, Fire Chief E. O. Messner. While council has deferred proposed razing of the structure in faint hope that civic patriotism might flare from an unexpected quarter and rebuild the home as a permanent shrine to the late president a section of the porch roof has been steadily rotting away through exposure to the elements. Hanging low, unsupported and in danger of falling, it was found this week to be in such hazardous condition that the fire department sped out to Meyers park and pulled down the dangerous section. Disposition of other sections of the house rests with Mayor A. R. Turnbull and his committee—unless remaining timbers force a second emergency call for strenuous measures.

Is This Too Good for Your Cough?

Croupism may be a better help than you need. It combines seven helps in one. It is made for quick relief, for safety. Mild coughs often yield to lesser helps. No one can tell. No one knows which factor will do most for any certain cough. So careful people, more and more, are using Croupism for any cough that starts. The cost is a little more than a single help. But your druggist is authorized to guarantee it, so it costs nothing if it fails to bring you quick relief. Coughs are dangerous signals. For safety's sake, deal with them in the best way known. ## SKINNY RUNDOWN WEAK MEN AND WOMEN NEED NATURAL "NATURAL IODINE"

How Pounds of Firm Solid Flesh Go on Even Naturally Skinny Folks—New Strength and Energy Appear When Glands Are Nourished and Normalized.

Folks marvel at how Kelp-A-Malt, the new natural mineral concentrate from the sea—the richest known source of Natural IODINE—can add good solid flesh so quickly even on those who have been skinny and underweight for years. Yet it's easy to understand.

Your internal glands, which actually control body weight, require Natural IODINE. Kelp-A-Malt provides it. Without it these glands become over-active, irregular, and force the tissue-destriving process, constantly going on in the body to work faster than the building-up process. So no matter how quickly flesh is formed, it is used up, destroyed and you stay skinny. The Kelp-A-Malt's minerals nourish the digestive glands which provide the juices needed for assimilating fats and starches, the only material out of which the body can build flesh. Try Kelp-A-Malt for a single week. Watch your appetite improve, strength return, flatter new pounds appear. If you don't add 5 lbs. of good solid flesh in 1 week, the trial is free. Buy Kelp-A-Malt at J. H. Lease Drug Co., and at other good drug stores—Adv.

DEMOCRATS TO BOSS ASSEMBLY

Will Probably Control Both Branches of Legislature

(By Associated Press)

COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 7.—Probability of Democrats controlling both branches of the new Ohio legislature was indicated today as a result of the Democratic landslide which swept Martin L. Davey into the governor's office, former Gov. Vie Donahue into the U. S. senate and a possibility of Democratic control of additional state offices.

Wayne incumbent losses.

Though complete county returns on legislative candidates were meager only in one instance where counties had reported had an incumbent Democrat member of the house suffered defeat. That was in Wayne county, where Corwin H. Swan yielded his seat to former Rep. D. W. Golebowski.

Democrats also had yielded another member in Williams county, where because of the death of Sen. Henry F. Ford W. H. Knepper (R) was elected without opposition. Incumbent members seeking reelection in other reported counties were successful.

The veteran senator, William H. Herber (D) of Huron county, a sales tax opponent but a friend of state aid for parochial schools, was re-elected over Fred L. Adams (R) of Wood county. Herber is chairman of the senate finance committee and as such is a member of the senate emergency and control boards which handles the states finances when the legislature is not in session.

Power Was Re-elected.

A parochial school and sales tax advocate, Senator John P. Bower (D) of Logan county was re-elected over G. W. Grant (R) of Crawford county.

Lucas county again will have two Democratic senators, Bernard R. Donovan, re-elected, and Rep. John F. Hunter who moved up from the house. Both voted for the sales tax and aid for parochial schools.

J. Freer Bittner (D) of Ashland county, a sales tax opponent and parochial school friend, and a former minority leader in the house, was returned to a fourth-term. Among other Democrat incumbents who were re-elected in the house were Frank Grubbs of Fayette, John Q. Carey of Lucas, who will bring with him three new Democratic members from that county, Julian P. Schaeffer of Putnam and Robert F. Jaser of Shelby.

Among the more prominent Republican members who were re-elected were B. L. Cressy of Ashland, for a fifth term, John L. Richards of Carroll for a third term, and Arthur Hamilton of Warren, for a fifth term without opposition.

Samuel A. Anderson, (D) of Licking county, a former page in the house and now a law student at Ohio State university, defeated Homer C. Price (R) a former dean of the Ohio State university law school, for membership in the house.

cinets, Ballantine finished with a lead of 389.

John Taylor, Democrat of Salem, lost to W. R. Phillips of Lisbon in the contest for state representative by 781 votes. Taylor carried Salem, Wellsville and Leetonia but could not overcome the Lisbon man's lead in other parts of the county.

In his race for commissioner, Berg lost only East Liverpool and East Palestine by slight margins. In the other race for commissioner, Vodrey held a lead in Salem, East Liverpool, East Palestine and Leetonia by small margins, but the rural precincts also went against him and the contest was won by Fisher with only 97 votes to spare.

Brown Carries County

Wellsville, Lisbon and Leetonia combined to defeat Mrs. Elliott for recorder, although Calhoun, her opponent, also showed strength in rural sections.

In carrying the county, Brown lost Salem, Wellsville and Leetonia, whereas Donahey and Imhoff carried every community in the county except Lisbon.

For state senator, Palmer was given a Columbiana county lead of 1373, losing in Salem, Wellsville and Leetonia.

Baby Is Killed By Cincinnati Prowler

CINCINNATI, Nov. 7.—A 14-months old baby was killed early today by the blows of a prowler, who, entering the home of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Greer, was startled by the cry of the baby's brother.

The baby, Gus Greer, died of a skull fracture. His slayer fled as the father entered the room.

Three children—Beatrice, 14 William, 5, and the baby, were sleeping together when, Beatrice said, she was awakened by the prowler leaning over their bed.

"If you scream I'll murder all of you," she said he warned in a voice indicating he was a Negro. "Daddy! Daddy!" screamed William, and "the man then started choking me and hitting at my two little brothers," the girl related.

Morro Castle Fire Charges Recorded

(By Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 7.—Death of 84 passengers and 32 members of the crew in the Morro Castle steamship disaster was attributed today by the Steamboat Inspection Service to rapid spread of the fire, delay in giving the fire alarm, ineffectiveness of the fire alarm, failure to mark exits properly and delay of the officers in sending the SOS message.

Ohio Northern Polar Bears Riding Crest Of Football Fame

Ada College Team Holds Only Clean State Record; Ranks With 22 Outsiders

BY FRITZ HOWELL, Associated Press Sports Editor
COLUMBUS, Nov. 7.—Riding the crest of football fame seldom attained by any Ohio team, Ohio Northern's Polar Bears are making a name for themselves in the national grid rankings, and joy reigns supreme on the campus of the little Ada college.

Northern boasts the only undefeated and untied record in the state, and is one of 22 schools in the country with an unsullied performance for the year. The Polar Bears, with five straight victories, have white-washed the opposition in every game, and their goal line is one of three in the country unmarked by enemy claws. Tufts has won five in a row and blanked the opposition, but the Massachusetts college has scored but 60 points while Northern has made 96. Panzer of New Jersey also has an undefiled goal line, but has played only three games.

Meets Bowling Green
Two games remain on the schedule of the leaders, the Bears invading Bowling Green Saturday, and meeting Bluffton at Ada a week later. Bowling Green has won two, lost three and tied one, scoring 36 points to 54 for the opposition, while Bluffton has won three and lost three, counting 55 points to 85 for the foe.

Denison Unbeaten
Denison's Big Red team is the only other unbeaten college crew in Ohio, and the dope decrees that the Granville eleven should drop from the heights Saturday in the game with Ohio Wesleyan's powerful crew at Delaware. Denison has a tie with Case marring its record.

Baldwin-Wallace, Wooster, Ohio Wesleyan and Xavier are close behind with five victories and one defeat.

Four teams, Kenyon, Rio Grande, Holbrook and Otterbein, have failed to win a game, although the first three have tied in at least one. Otterbein has dropped six in a row. Wesleyan, with 174 points, leads the scoring parade. John Turely, having contributed 75 of the Bishop points, while Kenyon, with a touchdown and an opposing safety, is last with nine.

Rio Grande Poorest
Rio Grande has the poorest defensive mark, 173 points having been counted by the opposition, while Wittenberg is close behind with 170. Ten of the Buckeye teams have scored more than 100 points during the campaign, while eight have allowed more than 100.

Here are the records of Ohio's teams:

Football Game Ruined By Modern Trends, Ex-Yale Halfback Contends

(By International News Service)
PARIS, Nov. 7.—Football as played today has lost its kick when compared to the game as it was played in the early 1900's, William Edyard Mitchell, famous Yale halfback and chairman of an American automobile export corporation asserted recently in Paris.

"The game is completely ruined," complained the former star, who is in Europe to attend the Paris and London automobile shows. "Nowadays the game is for the spectators in the stand and not for the players as it formerly was."

Passing Glory
"When I played my last Yale game I forgot football, hung up my suit, put on a pair of overalls and got the dirtiest job I could find. But now, a star who has received a lot of publicity and attention tries to hang onto his uniform for the next 15 years. He can't realize that his football glory is a passing thing and often suffers for it."

"The game has been commercialized and when any sport is put on a commercial basis it ceases to be a sport. Now a young man in college who has any athletic ability thinks more of football than he does of his studies. The game is overemphasized, both by the players and the public."

Spectacular Showing
"The forward pass is used now only to show the mobs in the stands where the ball is and to make a spectacular showing. In the old days we had three downs to advance the ball five yards and it was up to us to keep the ball covered up as much as possible to do it. If the spectators want to see the ball thrown, they should see a basketball game."

"In the old days there were more mass formations and the best team won. Not so now—often the weaker team is the winner. There were no more broken bones in the early days than there are now, and I believe as a matter of fact, the chances of being hurt are far greater now."

Seek Return Of Heydler
Candidates for National Circuit Position Are Few
(By Associated Press)
NEW YORK, Nov. 7.—National league club owners have had a week in which to recover from the shock of the sudden resignation of John Arnold Heydler as president of the circuit but so far none of them has come up with an outstanding candidate for the position.

The signs now appear to point toward a movement to draft Heydler at least to the end of his one-year term which does not expire until 1936, as soon as his health permits.

Denison Will Defend Its Record Against Granville

Studebakers May Play Benefit Game

A benefit football game may be played here next Monday, Armistice day, sponsored by the Salem Associated Charities with the Alt-house Studebakers providing the opposition for a visiting team. Relying stadium would be the scene of the conflict if plans go through.

To Honor Seniors

YOUNGSTOWN, Nov. 7.—Struthers High will honor its senior members of the football team in its final home game this season Saturday with Youngstown East.

Isaacs, Pajaitich and Shaffer, ends; Lychocki, Perkins and Fallet, guards; and Pavlosky, N. Bogdon and Slavosky, backs, will be making their final home appearance.

BIG SIX LEAGUE SCHOOLS HAVE FIVE CONTESTS

Salem-Lisbon and Niles-Girard Games Are Attractions

Facing a full tilt this week in the gridiron title chase of the North-eastern Ohio Big Six league, five schools of the circuit will engage in contests with non-league rivals. All games are listed for Saturday afternoon.

The two outstanding games of this year will be county series clashes. Girard will invade Niles for a Trumbull county joust while Salem will entertain Lisbon in a Columbiana county fray. Two of the schools will meet Akron foes, with East High invading Massillon and Kenmore at Barberton. In the other game Youngstown East will journey to Struthers. Alliance will be idle this week.

Salem will meet a real foe in Lisbon which has practically clinched the championship of the Tri-County league for the second consecutive year.

Niles Has Hopes
Niles, seeking to regain some lost prestige hopes to halt Girard in their 14th meeting. Niles holds a six to four edge in the series with three games resulting in ties. The two have met one common foe in Struthers with both emerging victors. Niles did the trick 15-0 and Girard pulled up with a 20-12 win. Last week Girard defeated the weak Scienceville crew 35-7.

Massillon Sets Pace
Massillon, the only undefeated team in the league and her goal line still unbreached is expected to run up a large score in registering her eighth consecutive victory at the expense of Akron East. Massillon swamped Akron West's string of 22 consecutive victories. West had not lost since Oct. 22, 1932.

Barberton and Kenmore will clash at the Barberton field in what will be a homecoming event for Kenmore alumni. Kenmore, an up and coming team scored a surprise 34 to 6 victory over Wadsworth of the Western Reserve League last Saturday.

Another traditional rivalry will be resumed in the Youngstown East and Struthers clash. Last week Struthers was idle while East battled Campbell Memorial to a scoreless draw.

The league standings to date follow:

Team	W	L	T	Pts	Opp	Pct
Massillon	2	0	0	119	0	1.000
Salem	1	0	25	33	500
Struthers	1	1	0	21	15	500
Alliance	1	1	1	13	77	500
Niles	1	2	0	32	323
Barberton	0	1	1	6	600

THIS WEEK'S GAMES

Saturday Afternoon
Lisbon at Salem.
Akron East at Massillon.
Girard at Niles.
Youngstown East at Struthers.
Akron Kenmore at Barberton.

Chappell, Pukalski In Scoring Race

Continuing his scoring rampage by registering 20 points against Akron West last week, Henry Krier, star Massillon High halfback added to his lead in the race for the individual scoring honors of the Northeastern Ohio Big Six league.

Those scoring 18 or more points follow:

Player	G	T	Pts
Krier, Massillon	7	17	18
McGraw, Massillon	7	9	3
Loth, Massillon	7	9	54
Reese, Niles	7	7	43
Chappell, Salem	7	6	17
Korleski, Alliance	8	5	33
Pavlosky, Struthers	7	4	31
Pukalski, Salem	7	4	25

Chicago Cards Drub Dodgers, 21 To 0

(By Associated Press)
NEW YORK, Nov. 7.—The Brooklyn Dodgers' hopes of getting into the midst of the eastern division race in the National pro football league have received an abrupt setback.

Going out against the Chicago Cardinals, the Dodgers found all their mistakes turned into touchdowns last night as they played off a game postponed because of last Sunday's storm.

Bears Bruised

ADA, Nov. 7.—Ohio Northern's undefeated gridiron went through a tough practice session today, with every member of the squad seeing action. The entire team is bruised following Saturday's 7 to 0 victory over Wittenberg. Brenlinger, Burrey, Blase and Heikowsky, regular backs, are suffering from injuries, but are expected to be in shape for the game at Bowling Green Saturday.

A BULWARK OF MINNESOTA'S LINE

One of the several veterans of the University of Minnesota's powerful line this season is Phil Bengtson, a tackle who like many of his teammates weighs more than 200 pounds. (Associated Press Photo)

Salem, Lisbon to Renew Rivalry Here Saturday in Closely Matched Battle

Rivalry that was started between Salem and Lisbon High school football teams 25 years ago and which never has been broken, will be renewed again this Saturday afternoon when the gridiron eleven stack up against each other for an important county tussle.

The time when a Lisbon football machine was capable of handling the Quakers dates back 17 years, records show. Last season, fans will recall, Salem and Lisbon battled to a scoreless tie, after the southern neighbors had welcomed the Quaker men, confident that they themselves would be on the winning end of the fray.

Must Stop Springer
Saturday's game will be one in which Salem will have to put the anchor on Lisbon's triple-threat man, Fred Springer, 190-pounder, if the enemy is to be trounced.

DEANS LEAVE FOR FLORIDA

Breadon Says Contract Won't Be Signed Until Later

(By Associated Press)
ST. LOUIS, Nov. 7.—The dazzling Deans, Dizzy and Paul, visited President Sam Breadon of the St. Louis Cardinals again today, but the word was given out that 1935 contracts were not discussed.

Breadon said no effort to sign the Deans would be made until after the first of the year, when contracts are mailed to all of the players, and reiterated his belief the club would have no difficulty in getting the star pitchers to agree to terms.

After today's conference, the Deans departed for Florida and Breadon left for New York to attend a National League meeting.

Expects No Trouble
"I expect no difficulty in signing the Deans when the time comes," Breadon smiled, after "Ma and Paul" had departed.

"Why, Pepper Martin was our greatest star in the 1931 World Series, just like the Deans this year, and we had no trouble with him."

"And Rogers Hornsby was the highest paid player in the National League when he was with the Cardinals; Frisch the highest paid in 1931, and Grimes the highest paid pitcher in 1931."

Springer has been the bombshell in past games this season with his relentless scoring, giving Lisbon their present record of only one defeat and that to East Liverpool which they lost early in the season, 9 to 6.

Last week Lisbon trounced Wells-ville 12-6. Previously Wellsville fought to a 6-6 tie with the Quakers.

Win For Salem Means Much
A victory Saturday would put Salem in a penthouse position for the Columbiana title race. Practice aimed especially for the weekend encounter is being given Quaker squad members by Coach Lew Smith this week. Smith himself is shoved to the sidelines somewhat, having suffered a broken collarbone when he slipped and fell during scrimmage instructions Monday afternoon.

Quakers Lose Delansky
Salem will suffer the loss of Joe Delansky, end, whose playing this season has aided the Quakers greatly. Delansky is out for the rest of the season, on crutches with a broken bone in his foot. Preiler, who booted for Salem, had previously left the team.

It is the only hope of Quaker boosters that the team puts forth the grim determination to fight that they did last weekend in turning back the Niles team, 25 to 12.

Coach Smith's boys are to be commended for the scrappy outfit which they proved themselves to be, but at the same time should feel that there's a real battle ahead for Saturday and that any bit of over-confidence might wreck hopes for victory.

It is too early to know what line-ups will be used.

Plan Sports Center

DENVER—Ski courses, toboggan slides and ice-skating courses, combining the finest features of European, Canadian and American winter sports centers, will be available to Denver enthusiasts under plans being considered by the city bureau of public welfare.

Inspiration Point, just northwest of the city, has been selected for the toboggan slide.

DONAHEY WINS, DAVEY LEADS FOR GOVERNOR

THREE DEMOCRATS ARE WINNERS IN COUNTY

G. O. P. LANDS SIX RACES IN COUNTY

Turns In Margin For Clarence J. Brown Over Martin L. Davey; Donahey and Imhoff Finish Ahead

Retaining much of the strength that has made it a Republican stronghold for many successive years, Columbiana county gave Clarence J. Brown, governor candidate, a lead over Martin L. Davey while the most of the state was going Democratic yesterday, and captured six of the nine county contests.

Spirited battles marked virtually every contest on the Columbiana county slate, with T. Vaughn Yates, Salem potter worker and member of the present Salem City council, polling the second biggest majority of any of the winning candidates.

In this respect Conrad Berg of Leetonia topped the running. Berg polled 11,811 votes in his race with County Commissioner John McBane Kerr of Yellow Creek township, seeking re-election. Kerr finished with 10,181 to trail by 1,630.

On the other hand, the closest fight on the list was that between two other commissioner candidates, running for the short term.

Frank M. Fisher, Democrat, of Liverpool township, was returned the winner in the face of unofficial returns with a count of 10,738, or just 97 more votes than Oliver C. Vodrey, of East Liverpool, received.

R. John Taylor, Democrat, another Salem candidate in the county arena, lost to W. R. Phillips, of Lisbon, by a margin of 781 votes. Taylor went out of Salem with a decisive majority but lost his lead in south county precincts.

Jess Calhoun, Democrat, Wells-ville druggist, took the recorder's job away from Mrs. Edith Elliott by a 1,062 margin to ring up the third victory for the party in the county.

Russell Burns of Salem, Democratic treasurer candidate, was given a lip-sid majority in Salem but George Boice of East Liverpool came out of his home town with a sufficiently decisive margin which, with other votes in the south county section, gave him the office by 889 votes.

Davey and Donahey Ahead In Wellsville

WELLSVILLE, Nov. 7.—Wellsville voters turned out to cast overwhelming votes for Davey and Donahey on the Democratic ticket. Congressman Imhoff polled the majority of votes in the congressional race while Campbell led Palmer for state senator.

Tabulation of the ballots cast were:

For Governor — Davey 1238; Brown 959.

CCC Youths Protest Move By Locking Officers In Car

WORCESTER, Mass., Nov. 6.—Two hundred and fifty Civilian Conservation corps workers were whisked south today despite their rebellion against a wholesale transfer from Maine to Virginia and Maryland camps.

The youths belabored their officers, locked them in the baggage car and thwarted all attempts to move the 12-car troops train for three hours last night before they were quieted and the trip was resumed.

Sobered By Police

A riot call brought 150 policemen to the railroad yards. The arrival of police sobered the demonstrators and the army officers, several of whom the train conductor said were bent badly, asserted they could take care of any further trouble.

Forester police were informed that discontent over the transfer had been brewing since the train left Maine, and that some of the men had been drinking.

The train arrived in Worcester soon after 9 p. m. for a routine stop. After locking up their officers, the youths held the train by cutting the air hose.

The train, with about a dozen windows kicked out, departed finally at 12:20 a. m. for New Haven, Conn., with the army officers freed and in control. The workers are bound for Fort Hoyle, Md., and Ben Hur, Va.

DONAHEY DECISIVE VICTOR OVER FESS

Appears To Be Headed for Majority In Excess of 350,000; Davey's Aids Predict Triumph by 50,000 Margin

Ohio Governor 4,387 precincts out of 8,559 in Ohio gave for governor: Davey (D) 561,316; Brown (R) 511,183; Ford (C) 1,541.

Ohio U. S. Senator 4,406 precincts out of 8,559 in Ohio gave for senator: Donahey (D) 602,076; Fess (R) 394,085; Sandberg (C) 1,313.

COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 7.—Vic Donahey, former Democratic governor who frankly told his campaign audiences, "I don't know anything about the money question or international diplomacy, do you?" today was headed for the seat in the United States senate held for 12 years by an old-guard Republican, Sen. Simeon D. Fess.

The senior senator watched the mounting returns for his opponent throughout the night and then early today conceded his defeat by wiring Donahey his congratulations and offering him "the facilities of my office" until he takes his seat.

Lead Grows Steadily

Steadily increasing his lead in returns tabulated early this morning, Donahey, who endorsed the Donahey's surprising majority giving promise of exceeding 1 most optimistic Democratic predictions, appeared likely to carry party's candidate for governor Martin L. Davey, tree surgeon of Kent into office as successor to Democratic Governor George White, who refrained from supporting his party's nominee actively.

Predicts 50,000 Majority

With more than one-fourth of the state's 8,599 precincts tabulated Davey led Republican Clarence Brown by upwards of 25,000 votes and his publicity representative, Don Remels, predicted he would win by at least 50,000 votes. R election forecasts of Francis P. son, Democratic state executive committee chairman, had placed Davey's probable majority at 1,000.

The present Democratic control of the Ohio congressional delegation likewise appeared unthreatened although the split up of 18 Democrats and six Republicans appeared likely to be altered. In one of closest district congressional races, Miss Gertrude Jones, the only man candidate for a congressional seat, was running close behind Democratic incumbent Brooks R. cher of the 8th district. Several other races also were close but Democratic congressmen-at-large Charles V. Truax and Stephen Young, gradually moved out front in the contests for their seats.

State Races Close

The entire state ticket below error was locked in close contest. State Senator Harold G. Mosier, author of the state liquor monopoly law, had a sizeable lead over publican Paul Herbert, one of most militant of the campaign for Brown. Herbert was threatened with a libel suit "win or lose" Davey after Herbert made charge of "circumventing" state bank laws against the Democratic candidate.

George S. Myers, Democrat asking another term as secretary state, had an even greater over George Braden, Republican member of the State Utilities Commission, but the other two pre-state officials, State Treasurer E. ry S. Day and Attorney Gen John W. Bricker, both Republican, were locked in two of the closest contests of Tuesday's election.

was ahead of Joseph T. Perry, Republican, but Bricker trailed man he beat two years ago, Her S. Duffey, Democrat.

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 6.—Two damaged destroyers and a lost naval airplane today marked the maneuvers of the United States fleet as its return from the Atlantic coast.

Steaming out in a simulated night attack with 26 other destroyers on the main body of the fleet, the fighting craft Ellis and McFarland collided last night 200 miles off Magdalena bay on the Mexican coast. Most of the attacking destroyers were running without lights.

The most seriously damaged of the two was the McFarland, which reported water rising in the fire-room. A forward hull puncture appeared to be the only damage to the Ellis.

No serious injuries to members of the crews were reported.

Both destroyers were taken in tow by tenders which are bringing them to San Diego for repairs.

Planes Brush Wings

The airplane of Lieut. Commander Thomas P. Jeter, noted navy speed flier, was lost yesterday, but the pilot escaped injury when the craft was forced into the water after three planes brushed wings in mid-air. Pilots of the other two planes involved in the mishaps, Lieut. Robert Goldthwaite and Lieut. Charles L. Westhof, succeeded in landing their ships on the Airplane Carrier Lexington.

The fleet, due here Nov. 9, has been holding maneuvers continuously since it passed through the Panama Canal.

A WORTHY CAUSE

Many constructive efforts of civic groups are carried on in every community without much thought on the part of the public as to the work involved, now it is possible to finance it and how much good is accomplished. The last often is accepted without much concern, or at least with little knowledge of the organized planning necessary with limited funds available.

Perhaps the organizations themselves are responsible for this condition because they are too engrossed in their altruistic service, or hesitate to discuss their work for fear they may be charged with seeking praise. Most of them have been content to carry on as best they could during times of stress without calling public attention to their uphill battle. Occasionally it is necessary to abandon such a course in the interests of those who are the beneficiaries of these worthwhile services.

Such, perhaps, is the position the Rotary club finds itself in today, as it attempts to maintain its humanitarian efforts in behalf of crippled children. Only a few years ago no organized effort was devoted to the cause of these unfortunate boys and girls. The need for special attention to this increasing group of children, with their bent and broken limbs and bodies, was first realized by Rotary clubs in Ohio. They accepted the task of giving these children social hospital care, surgery, education, nursing, and equipment to protect their imperfect limbs and bodies.

Results were amazing, even with limited funds made available by these clubs, but soon the state realized its responsibility to society in this direction and state funds were provided to enlarge the scope of this humanitarian work and to augment the efforts of Rotarians.

Depression years eventually made their inroads on state funds and finally the full responsibility for carrying on the great work reverted to its sponsors—the Rotary clubs of Ohio. The Salem club was one of the first in the state to enter wholeheartedly to this work and its members have found their reward in the satisfaction gained from watching boys and girls gradually emerge from creeping and crawling to walk erect on strong limbs and take their place with other normally healthy children. In many cases braces or braces have given these cripples a new outlook on life.

Much of this work remains for the Salem Rotary club, but it is hampered to a great extent from lack of sufficient funds. For that reason the club has aided a series of four entertainments to raise funds for the nursing, hospital care and educational opportunities so vital to these children may be maintained. Few causes in any community are more worthy. There should be no occasion for urging public response to such an appeal. Results of the work in behalf of crippled children in Salem are apparent everywhere. Even greater good can be accomplished in the future with just a little public support now.

NEW IDEA

A surprising amount of political success is good. But politicians don't need to distinguish between luck and actual achievement in their campaigns. They are permitted to take credit both for what they did and what was done for them.

In the assumption that the United States will be emerging definitely from the depression by 1936, early users are predicting President Roosevelt's reelection. It will not matter greatly whether President Roosevelt's administration conquered the depression, whether it was conquered in spite of the administration or whether the cure was effected by a combination of science and luck. Politicians will claim the credit.

It is timely, therefore, to give some thought to the best idea in Washington, expressed briefly as being business a chance to see what it can do for the country. This is the policy which has moved President Roosevelt and his spokesmen to adopt a more belligerent attitude toward business. It is the policy of placing recovery before reform.

Finally, it is a confession of unsatisfactory progress to attempt to prove that the federal government has sufficient power and wisdom to overcome the depression. The government has tried a great many times and will continue to experiment as long as it obtains money. But the depression lingers. Business must turn back to its own resources to help government. Between them, recovery may be achieved.

It is confession undoubtedly will be forgotten by the presidential campaign then offers President Roosevelt an opportunity to claim credit for recovery. His party will claim all the credit, much to the embarrassment of the opposition. Furthermore, if recovery is generally acknowledged by 1936, the stratagem will work.

THE STARS SAY

For Wednesday, November 7

While this may be an active and eventful day in respects, judging by certain lunar figures, yet there will be obstructions, delays, disappointments and generally frustrating circumstances to call for perseverance, indomitable will and wise counsel in order to cope with such adverse situations. Affairs with combines and secret societies, as well as employment, should thrive and there is encouragement for new contracts.

Those whose birthday it is may eventually have a successful and interesting year, with some progress in business and employment, but this after certain tenacious obstacles or difficult situations are disposed of by determination, perseverance and patience as well as good judgment. New contracts may prove intriguing.

A child born on this day should be energetic, practical, industrious and should rise above handicaps to good position and happiness in life.

O. O. McINTYRE

NEW YORK DAY BY DAY

NEW YORK, Nov. 6.—One of New York's most conspicuous celebrity haunts is the inconspicuous East 19th home of the William H. Hamiltons. The place was a stable and carriage house in the days when the Broadway Central featured garter chairs and Sutton Place was a jungle of dwarf willows. But inside is the recaptured charm of a lost era. Stairs with white picketed bannisters, little dark closets, an open fire flickering on a Corot, a centered garden with brick walls and a Dutch hangover of gable ends. A library with autographed Kiplings, an Oscar Wilde, Maugham and Michael Arlen.

To intimidate the Hamiltons are Anne and Bill. He was a banker with gumption to quit in middle years, an expert linguist at home in world capitals. Anne, although a vibrant modern, is hep to the Victorian graces and when she sounds the chamade everybody comes on the run.

There's no effort to entertain at the Hamiltons. The invited drift smoke-like into chattering groups. Lawrence Tibbett may sing. Fraye and Bragioti may play. Myra Kingsley may discuss the stars. Irvin Cobb may tell a Paducah honey and Ike Marcossen a travel experience. All are of this ilk.

Broadway was saddened by the passing of Billy Emerich. Sometime ago before he and Billy Seeman married and settled down they were a playboy pair who did much to add to the gaiety of the town. Emerich's bachelor duplex on West 57th street was a haven for important of the stage and screen world. About six years ago he went to California, married the former Mrs. Norman Kerry, and Broadway saw him no more.

Damon Runyon, among the nattiest of the natty dressers, goes in for slate gray shirts and a four-in-hand of same shade with a barber pole streaking of dull red. Runyon is a spectacular dresser but a master at times of sombre shades. Often he features a black silk handkerchief in his breast pocket, cuff links of black onyx and ebony spats.

Henry Sell is another with a tasty touch in gent's wear with an occasional flair for the bizarre. After suppressed periods he may burst forth in polka dot suitings, gray speckled with brown, tan with black and one hulu in deep blue flecked with white dots as big as rubber ends of a lead pencil. Lucius Beebe would beat his breast at a mere glance of it.

New York rarely sees the floor maids of the smart hotels. They are a great city's most obscurely well-to-do living on the roofs. Their pay is not more than $30 a month but board is free and their tips and Christmas gifts run into important money. There is the legend that one is the mother of a famous dancer and one morning, quite by accident, walked into the bedroom of the suite her daughter had just taken. She asked to be transferred to another floor. The daughter never knew.

Nothing so distinguishes a fastidious dresser as the tilt of his hat. Acton Davies once wrote that John Drew's charm was not in the lift of his eyebrow but the slant of his derby. English fashion scribbles are forever decrying the American's sloppy headgear. They have the Prince of Wales! And hatters agree no one can set off a hat like young David. Across the channel in Paris, Jean Pafou achieves a chapeau jauniness that only a practised stylist masters. Count Salm, who married the Rogers girl, also had a flair for the correct angle, and King Edward's hatter, Gelot, is said to have made Salm's hats free for years. But we are not without our native hat experts. Few achieve the dash of Adolphe Menjou with a silk hat. Warren William and Warner Baxter of the screen almost, but not quite, acquire the soft hat brim dips of the ace hatter, Clive Brook. And New York, of course, has its duded Jimmy Walker. Or had.

The Value of Oxygen

If you live in a large city you have often noticed red or green automobiles bearing the sign "Emergency-Oxygen". These cars are usually given the right of way because they may be speeding to some one in dire need of oxygen.

Oxygen is successfully used in the treatment of certain cases of pneumonia, heart disease, hyperthyroidism, shock drug and gas poisoning. The use of oxygen as a curative measure was first advanced in 1907. Its great value was truly appreciated during the World war, when wide use was made of it in the treatment of gas poisoning and other lung disturbances. It is now known to be useful in the treatment of any disturbance in which there is insufficient oxygen in the blood.

"Anoxemia" is a condition in which the blood is deficient in oxygen. This commonly occurs as a result of obstruction to the air passages, as in pneumonia, pulmonary diseases, diphtheria and other inflammations of the upper air passages.

Administration Simplified

It is present in severe cases of carbon monoxide poisoning. This form of poisoning is caused by breathing illuminating gas, furnace gas or gas from the exhaust of an automobile. Gas poisoning leads to a deficiency of oxygen in the blood and unless this precious element is supplied death soon occurs.

Anoxemia may also occur as a result of severe hemorrhage, breathing bad air for a long time, severe heart disease or disease of the lungs. The sufferer has a grayish or green pallor. His lips appear blue and his fingers and toes are cold. He seems to be choking for air.

It is only within recent years that the administration of oxygen has been simplified. Many large institutions have so-called "oxygen rooms". They are especially built so that the proportion of oxygen may be maintained at any desired level. As a rule the oxygen concentration is set at about 40 per cent. The humidity and temperature of the room are accurately controlled and the air in the room is kept in constant circulation.

Oxygen Rooms

The doctor and other attendants enter and leave the room by means of a door, known as an "air lock". This prevents loss of oxygen from the room. Even the carbon dioxide caused by breathing in the room is absorbed by passing the air over cans containing soda-lime.

Oxygen rooms are not always available. But oxygen can be administered to a patient by inserting a rubber tube into his nose. The tube is changed periodically from one nostril to another. Beneficial results are obtained from this procedure. It is particularly valuable because this method of administration may be used at home. The only requirement is the tank containing oxygen.

Another way of administering oxygen is by means of the so-called "oxygen tent". This consists of a hood of canvas placed over the head of the patient. The oxygen is passed into this tent and the patient breathes a concentrated mixture rich in oxygen. Of course, this method is not as good as the use of the oxygen room, but in an emergency it is of great value.

Here is an unsolicited letter from Mr. Daniels:

"For many years I have been habitually constipated, and have used all sorts of laxatives. So, in fairness to Kellogg's ALL-BRAN, I heartily claim it to be a most wonderful remedy for constipation.

"Need I tell you that I have long since ceased using laxatives? Kellogg's ALL-BRAN is the National Natural Laxative. If it were used by every family in the United States for breakfast, we would have a much healthier race of people."—Mr. John Daniels, 1090 Third St., North Bergen, N. J.

Tests show Kellogg's ALL-BRAN furnishes "bulk" to exercise the intestines and vitamin B to help tone the intestinal tract. ALL-BRAN also supplies iron for the blood.

The "bulk" in ALL-BRAN is much like that in leafy vegetables. Isn't this food much pleasanter than risking pills and drugs? Two tablespoons daily are usually sufficient. If not relieved this way, see your doctor.

Naturals Will Be Missing From Grid Battlefronts This Season

There's No Way To Bring Together Major College Teams Which Lead Race

BY ALAN GOULD.
Associated Press Sports Editor
NEW YORK, Nov. 6.—Owing to an almost complete lack of psychic or crystal-gazing powers among college football's schedule-makers, a number of outstanding "naturals" will be missed along the main battlefronts this season.

There's nothing strange about this, inasmuch as most major college games are booked several years in advance, but it must make professional promoters as well as graduate managers tear their hair out to contemplate the fact that there's no way to bring together Alabama and Minnesota, Stanford and Princeton or Rice and Santa Clara unless the Tournament of Roses committee doesn't do something about it for the annual New Year's day classic. Any one of these pairings would pack the house.

Arguments Unsettled

Greater latitude in post-season play would solve a lot of the gridiron arguments usually left over, unsettled, at the end of each campaign. So far, however, academic or traditional barriers have been too strong for willing coaches or players to hurdle. It's no certainty, for instance, that either Minnesota or Princeton would consider an invitation to the Rose Bowl this winter, assuming each finishes the season undefeated as now appears likely. Princeton turned down a bid to play Stanford last New Year's day.

"Natural" In Southwest

Events have combined to produce two conference naturals this week, one bringing together Rice and Arkansas for a decisive southwest battle and other matching Stanford and Washington, both unbeaten, in a tussle for Pacific coast leadership. Two other undefeated teams, Syracuse and Michigan State, are bracketed next Saturday, while another intersectional attraction finds Tulane coming up from the south to battle Colgate's Red Raiders in the Yankee stadium.

These are exceptions, however, in the east, Navy's first unbeaten team in years doesn't meet Princeton, although the two schools have played many times previously. Minnesota is not scheduled with either of its two rivals for Big Ten leadership, Purdue and Illinois. Duke and Washington and Lee, twin pace-setters in the Southern conference, have no way of settling their argument. Similarly, in the southeastern group, Alabama does not play either Tulane or Louisiana, the tide's two rivals for the title.

DIZ AND DAFFY READY TO SIGN NEW PAY PACT

Jerome would Sign Three-Year Contract For $100,000

(By Associated Press)
ST. LOUIS, Nov. 6.—Dizzy Dean—the big gun with the loud report—is expected to talk contract in the six-league classification today with his boss, Sam Breadon, president of the St. Louis Cardinals.

$100,000 For Three Years

Dizzy, his brother, Paul, and Boss Breadon, got together yesterday for what was billed as a friendly chat and nothing more than that came to the surface. But the chat will be resumed today and Dizzy has a proposition. He said he would sign a three-year contract for $100,000.

The pitching Deans, who came into town yesterday after a barnstorming tour that included baseball, the stage and screen, plan to leave today for their home in Florida. Before the good-byes are said, however, there is mutual hope that the contract autographing will have been accomplished.

Paul Is Undecided

Dizzy said emphatically he would not sign for less than $25,000 for the 1935 season. It's either that or the three-year proposition, according to his attitude. Paul said he did not know what he wanted for the 1935 season, but it was reported his minimum request would be for $15,000.

Last year Dizzy received $7,500 and Paul, a big league freshman $3,000. They did all the victory pitching for the Cardinals in the recent World Series with Detroit.

Fight In Spain

BARCELONA, Spain, Nov. 6.—The Freddie Miller-Jose Girones featherweight title fight, scheduled for last night, will be held Wednesday night. It was postponed because of unfavorable weather.

Miller, of Cincinnati, is recognized as 126-pound champion by the U. S. national boxing association. Girones is the Spanish and European titleholder.

Turley Leads Ohio Scorers

(By Associated Press)
COLUMBUS, Nov. 6.—Of the several thousand youths playing football on Ohio college teams, only 247 today knew the thrill that comes with plunging across the opponent's goal line or booting the ball over the crossbar.

That many have counted some kind of a score.

On a lone eminence at the top of that heap John Turley still stood. A Delaware boy who made good in his own home-town at Ohio Wesleyan university, Turley was not without honor in his own country.

Amasses 75 Points

Thus far this season, to amass a total of 75 points to lead Ohio's scorers, Turley has traveled eight times across the final stripe and has tied the oval 19 times in the proper place to count points, four times for field goals from the field and 15 times for points after touchdowns.

The Bishop quarterback's 75 points ranks him second in the National scoring parade led by Art Strutt, another Ohioan from Mingo Junction, who romps for Duquesne university, at Pittsburgh.

Furthermore, Turley's four field goals total already is one better than last year's national record. He has played in six games. Strutt in seven.

Denison's Foster Next

The nearest competition for Turley in the Ohio field is Foster, of Denison, who has 48 points. He would need to add four touchdowns to his total of eight and kick a field goal or three points after touchdown to catch Turley—if Turley stood still.

In the first 44 places in the scoring list, Ohio Wesleyan placed five men, Ohio State four, and Denison, Xavier, and Wilberforce three each. Jenkins of Denison followed Foster with 42 points, tied with Goldsmith of Baldwin-Wallace.

Heekin Leads At State

Heekin of Ohio State led the Buckeye scorers with six touchdowns for a total of 36.

The mundane training chores between games today found the Buckeyes of Ohio State wiping mud off their mole skins. It caked on them yesterday when Coach Schmidt put them through their paces in spite of rain and sloshy field to prepare for the game against Chicago here Saturday. The freshmen assumed Maroon formations to supply the opposition.

Undeclared In Ohio

COLUMBUS, Nov. 6.—If somebody had ventured on Nov. 5, 1933, to predict that one year forward Ohio Northern and Denison would have the only unbeaten college football teams in Ohio, he would have been laughed down heartily.

But it came to pass. Today Ohio Northern has won five consecutive games and its goal line has not been punctured. Denison has won five games and tied one. Last week Northern trimmed Wittenberg 7 to 0 and Denison defeated Otterbein 26 to 0.

Bargains are plentiful. The ads will tell you where.

Look Out For This High Stepping Illini Half

Wife of Ohio State's Coach Believes Fountain of Youth the College Campus

Associated Press Sports Writer
COLUMBUS, Nov. 6.—Mrs. Francis A. Schmidt, wife of Ohio State's football coach, has found the formula for staying young.

She doesn't need the formula for herself, for the twinkle is still in her eye and the bloom of real youth in her cheek, but she passes her discovery on to those who are beginning to feel the weight of years.

"You must associate with young people, look at their problems from their angle, and join in their fun," is Mrs. Schmidt's sage advice for solving the problem to which Ponce De Leon sought the answer centuries ago.

It's College Campus

The college campus, she believes, is the nearest approach to the real "fountain of youth."

And because her husband's job gives her the opportunity to meet new young people all the time—she takes all the trips with the team and attends student functions—she, like Coach Schmidt, disagrees with the "experts" who say the Buckeye football berth is the "toughest" in the country.

Predictions True

Before the season opened Mrs. Schmidt said, "Ohio has some fine material. Francis will make a football team out of it." And the Buckeye state is beginning to agree with her, since the team has lost but one game, and that to the mighty Illinois gridders by a lone point.

Mrs. Schmidt attributes her husband's football success to the fact that he eats, drinks, sleeps and thinks football 52 weeks in the year. In fact, that is her lone objection, for she says he does "startling" things in bridge games when his mind is on the gridiron and not on his cards.

Columbiana's Undeclared Red-White To Play Boardman in Season's Final

COLUMBIANA, Nov. 6.—Columbiana's undefeated red and white will take the field at Boardman Saturday afternoon in the finale of the local's short season. Coach Jimmy Wland's crew has kept enemy teams to only two touchdowns this season, those by Courtland and Leetonia.

Columbiana will be meeting an experienced eleven in Boardman and rigid practice this week is expected to put the red and white in trim for the encounter.

Dolansky Out For Rest Of Season

Joe Dolansky, brilliant Quaker end, will be out of the lineup for the rest of the season, having broken a bone in his foot in the game Friday night with Niles.

Bear To Play Lions

CHICAGO, Nov. 6.—With the Chicago Bears and Detroit Lions rolling over all opposition, there appears little prospect for settlement of their National professional football league leadership battle until they run into each other Thanksgiving day.

The team was feted at a dinner Monday night, arranged by the Columbiana Kiwanis club. Recipients of the dinner are theirs if they win on Saturday.

TRY THE SALEM NEWS

STATE-CHICAGO GAME SHOULD BE THRILLER

Both Strong Offensively And Each Boasts One Outstanding Back

COLUMBUS, Nov. 6.—Hardly ruffled from their 76 to 0 runaway against Western Reserve Saturday, Ohio State's gridiron gallopers today took up where they left off for the Cleveland brawler and began a series of intensive drills for a visit from the University of Chicago this week-end.

The Chicago encounter next Saturday, which will be the first meeting of the two schools in a football game in Ohio stadium here in the last six years, is expected to be one of the best games of the season here.

Practices Similar

Chicago and Ohio both play practically the same kind of football. Their offenses are their best defenses. In addition, each team boasts a potential All-American backfield man—Jay Berwanger for the Maroons and Dick Heekin for the Buckeyes.

Besides these inducements, both elevens will be battling for a mathematical chance at the Western Conference crown.

Mighty Mite

JOHN MATTHEWS QUARTERBACK

Lack of weight is the only thing that is keeping John Matthews, of Ashland, from being one of the stars of this year's Ohio Wesleyan football team.

Matthews has everything a gridder should possess, except weight. He scales at only 130 pounds and is only 5 feet, 7 inches in height. He is a 10-second runner, a good punter, and an exceptionally good field general. Although small, he never seems to get hurt and in three years of college football has never had a time out for injury.

He won his "W" last season as a quarterback, but has found difficulty this year in breaking into the lineup due to the great work of John Turley, the state's leading scorer, who plays the quarterback position for the Bishops.

Matthews will get his chance, however, next Saturday when he will captain the Bishop eleven against Denison at Delaware.

NAVY FAVORITE OVER IRISH WEEKEND

First Time Middies Been Given Edge Eight Years

CLEVELAND, Nov. 6.—The first time in the eight-year rivalry between the two teams Navy will rate the favor over Notre Dame when the grid clash in the municipal stadium Saturday.

The favorite's role is a new one for the Middies, annual tussle with the Irish a role that only the few followers hoped for when the grid fleet set sail with a victory over Williams College at Annapolis Saturday.

This victory was only a part of a campaign of six wins that now brings the Navy to Cleveland with an unbeaten record. A 21 to 6 victory at the University of Virginia and a 13 win over the United States Navy helped bolster the Navy's record.

Close to 2,500 Notre Dame students will come to Cleveland for the Irish-Middle battle, an annual migration day study ball trip, bringing with the University of Notre Dame band. The United States Academy will be represented by the 66th Regiment band, Hayes, Ohio.

Cinn. Pros Set

(By Associated Press)
COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 6.—The chase of the Cincinnati Football League franchise players by St. Louis inter announced here today by Carr, president of the league, purchase price was not set.

The players and franchise transferred immediately, and the first league game, a new setup will be played at day when the Pittsburgh Pirates visit St. Louis.

Wrestling Results

Buffalo — Jim Browning, 236, threw Count Zarnoff, 205, Russia, one fall.

New York — Everett Marshall, 218, La Junta, Colo., threw Gino Garibaldi, 214, Italy, one fall.

Primo Meets Campolo

BUENOS AIRES, Nov. 6.—Primo Canera, former heavyweight champion was signed today to meet Victorio Campolo, Argentine heavyweight, in a twelve-round bout at Independiente Stadium which seats 40,000.

The bout, set for Nov. 24, will be Canera's first since he lost his title to Max Baer.

Bishops Practice

DELAWARE, Nov. 6.—The Bishops of Ohio Wesleyan went through a light practice today, glad to have escaped injury in the Miami game, one of the toughest of the season.

DONAHEY WINS, DAVEY LEADS FOR GOVERNOR

THREE DEMOCRATS ARE WINNERS IN COUNTY

G. O. P. LANDS SIX RACES IN COUNTY

Turns In Margin For Clarence J. Brown Over Martin L. Davey; Donahey and Imhoff Finish Ahead

Retaining much of the strength that has made it a Republican stronghold for many successive years, Columbiana county gave Clarence J. Brown, governor candidate, a lead over Martin L. Davey while the most of the state was going Democratic yesterday, and captured six of the nine county contests.

Spirited battles marked virtually every contest on the Columbiana county slate, with T. Vaughn Yates, Salem pottery worker and member of the present Salem City council, polling the second biggest majority of any of the winning candidates. In this respect Conrad Berg of Leetonia topped the running. Berg polled 11,811 votes in his race with County Commissioner John McBane Kerr of Yellow Creek township, seeking re-election. Kerr finished with 10,181, to trail by 1,630.

On the other hand, the closest fight on the list was that between two other commissioner candidates, running for the short term.

Frank M. Fisher, Democrat, of Liverpool township, was returned the winner in the face of unofficial returns with a count of 10,738, or just 97 more votes than Oliver C. Voder of East Liverpool, received. R. John Taylor, Democrat, another Salem candidate in the county arena, lost to W. R. Phillips, of Lisbon, by a margin of 781 votes. Taylor went out of Salem with a decisive majority but lost his lead in south county precincts.

Jess Calhoun, Democrat, Wellsville druggist, took the recorder's job away from Mrs. Edith Elliott by a 1,062 margin to ring up the third victory for the party in the county.

Russell Burns of Salem, Democrat, was given a lop-sided majority in Salem but George Boice of East Liverpool came out of his home town with a sufficiently decisive margin which, with other votes in the south county section, gave him the office by 889 votes.

Davey and Donahey Ahead In Wellsville

WELLSVILLE, Nov. 7.—Wellsville voters turned out to cast overwhelming votes for Davey and Donahey on the Democratic ticket. Congressman Imhoff polled the majority of votes in the congressional race while Campbell led Palmer for state senator.

Salem Voters Scratch Tickets

RUSSELL BURNS LEADS TICKETS

Ballantine, Irwin, Yates, Elliott Victors In Salem Vote

Capturing the big majority of state and district honors, Democrats in Salem's 13 precincts gave majorities to Martin L. Davey over Clarence Brown for governor and A. V. Donahey over Simeon D. Fess for senator in yesterday's election.

They also approved Democratic candidates for secretary of state, congress-at-large, congress, state senator and state representative.

Russell Burns, Democratic candidate for treasurer, led both tickets here as he polled 2,018, easily topping the 1,099 of his opponent, George Boice, of East Liverpool.

Sheriff Frank Ballantine was given a majority over Harry Gosney of Columbiana here, while Mrs. Edith Elliott, recorder nosed out Jess Calhoun. T. V. Yates of Salem clerk of courts candidate, won from his Democratic opponent, Charles McLaughlin of Wellsville and Auditor John Irwin finished ahead of Ross Tisher, Democrat of East Liverpool.

Columbiana vote totals are:

CCC Youths Protest Move By Locking Officers In Car

WORCESTER, Mass., Nov. 6.—Two hundred and fifty Civilian Conservation Corps workers were whisked south today despite their rebellion against a wholesale transfer from Maine to Virginia and Maryland camps.

The youths belabored their officers, locked them in the baggage car and thwarted all attempts to move the 12-car troops train for three hours last night before they were quieted and the trip was resumed.

Subdued By Police

A riot call brought 150 policemen to the railroad yards. The arrival of police subdued the demonstrators and the army officers, several of whom the train conductor said were beaten badly, asserted they could take care of any further trouble.

Forerunner police were informed that discontent over the transfer had been brewing since the train left Maine, and that some of the men had been drinking.

The train arrived in Worcester soon after 9 p. m. for a routine stop. After locking up their officers, the youths held the train by cutting the air hose.

The train, with about a dozen windows kicked out, departed finally at 12:20 a. m. for New Haven, Conn., with the army officers freed and in control. The workers are bound for Fort Hoyle, Md., and Ben Hur, Va.

DONAHEY DECISIVE VICTOR OVER FESS

Appears To Be Headed for Majority In Excess of 350,000; Davey's Aids Predict Triumph by 50,000 Margin

Ohio Governor 4,587 precincts out of 8,559 in Ohio gave for governor: Davey (D) 561,316; Brown (R) 511,103; Ford (R) 1,544.

Ohio U. S. Senator 4,406 precincts out of 8,559 in Ohio gave for senator: Donahey (D) 602,076; Fess (R) 394,085; Sandberg (C) 1,313.

Donahay's surprising majority giving promise of exceeding the most optimistic Democratic predictions, appeared likely to carry his party's candidate for governor. Martin L. Davey, vice surgeon of Ken into office as successor to Democratic Governor George White, who refrained from supporting his party's nominee actively.

Predicts 50,000 Majority

With more than one-fourth of the state's 8,599 precincts tabulated Davey led Republican Clarence Brown by upwards of 25,000 votes and his publicity representative Don Rennels, predicted he would win by at least 50,000 votes. Election forecasts of Francis Post, Democratic state executive committee chairman, had placed Davey's probable majority at 17,000.

The present Democratic control of the Ohio congressional delegation likewise appeared unthreatened although the split up of 18 Democrats and six Republicans appear likely to be altered. In one of the closest district congressional races Miss Gertrude Jones, the only woman candidate for a congressional seat, was running close behind Democratic incumbent Brooks Fitcher of the 8th district. Several other races also were close but Democratic congressmen-at-large Charles V. Truax and Stephen Young, gradually moved out front in the contests for their seats.

State Races Close

The entire state ticket below governor was locked in close contests. State Senator Harold G. Mosier, a thor of the state liquor monopoly law, had a sizeable lead over Republican Paul Herbert, one of the most militant of the campaign for Brown. Herbert was threatened with a liberal suit "win or lose" Davey after Herbert made charge of "circumventing" state bank laws against the Democratic candidate.

George S. Myers, Democrat asking another term as secretary state, had an even greater lead over George Braden, Republican member of the State Utilities Commission, but Braden trailed man he beat two years ago, Herbert S. Duffey, Democrat.

Navy Destroyers, Plane Damaged In Pacific Maneuvers

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 6.—Two damaged destroyers and a lost naval airplane today marked the maneuvers of the United States fleet on its return from the Atlantic coast.

Steaming out in a simulated night attack with 26 other destroyers on the main body of the fleet, the fighting craft Ellis and McFarland collided last night 200 miles off Magdalena bay on the Mexican coast. Most of the attacking destroyers were running without lights.

The most seriously damaged of the two was the McFarland which reported water rising in the fire-room. A forward hull puncture appeared to be the only damage to the Ellis.

No serious injuries to members of the crews were reported.

Both destroyers were taken in tow by tenders which are bringing them to San Diego for repairs.

Planes Brush Wings

The airplane of Lieut. Commander Thomas P. Jeter, noted navy speed flyer, was lost yesterday, but the pilot escaped injury when the craft was forced into the water after three planes brushed wings in mid-air. Pilots of the other two planes involved in the mishaps, Lieut. Robert Goldthwaite and Lieut. Charles L. Westhouse, succeeded in landing their ships on the Airplane Carrier Lexington.

The fleet, due here Nov. 9, has been holding maneuvers continuously since it passed through the Panama Canal.

And it was, thanks to the senator.

E. N. Jackson, university bush manager, estimated that all money would be paid back within two months. Jackson said $275 had been paid of the $3 expended by Senator Long and the money was rolling back in senatorial possession at the rate $40 a day.

Asked whether he expected to back his money, Long said: "Well, I might lose about $10. You know, we never lose much."

Man Pardoned

COLUMBUS, Nov. 6.—Released from payment of fine and goes with a pardon by a governor Attorney General John W. Bricker in an opinion to the State Bureau of Accounting. ## A WORTHY CAUSE

Many constructive efforts of civic groups are carried on in every community without much thought in the part of the public as to the work involved, how it is possible to finance it and how much good is accomplished. The last often is accepted without such concern, or at least with little knowledge of the organized planning necessary with limited funds available.

Perhaps the organizations themselves are responsible for this condition because they are too engrossed in their altruistic service, or hesitate to discuss their work for fear they may be charged with seeking raise. Most of them have been content to carry on as best they could during times of stress without calling public attention to their uphill battle. Occasionally it is necessary to abandon such a course as the interests of those who are the beneficiaries of these worthwhile services.

Such, perhaps, is the position the Rotary club finds itself in today, as it attempts to maintain its humanitarian efforts in behalf of crippled children. Only a few years ago no organized effort was devoted to the cause of these unfortunate boys and girls. The need for special attention to this increasing group of children, with their bent and broken limbs and bodies, was first realized by Rotary clubs in Ohio. They accepted the task of giving these children special hospital care, surgery, education, nursing, and equipment to protect their imperfect limbs and bodies.

Results were amazing, even with limited funds made available by these clubs, but soon the state realized its responsibility to society in this direction and state funds were provided to enlarge the scope of this humanitarian work and to augment the efforts of Rotarians.

Depression years eventually made their inroads on these state funds and finally the full responsibility for carrying on the great work reverted to its sponsors—the Rotary clubs of Ohio. The Salem club was one of the first in the state to enter wholeheartedly into this work and its members have found their reward in the satisfaction gained from watching boys and girls gradually emerge from creeping and crawling to walk erect on strong limbs and take their place in other normally healthy children. In many cases braces have been cast aside, or specially constructed shoes or braces have given these cripples a new outlook on life.

Much of this work remains for the Salem Rotary club, but it is hampered to a great extent from lack of sufficient funds. For that reason the club has provided a series of four entertainments to raise funds for the nursing, hospital care and educational opportunities so vital to these children may be maintained. Few causes in any community are more worthy. There should be no occasion for urging public response to such an appeal. Results of the work in behalf of crippled children in Salem are apparent to everyone. Even greater good can be accomplished in the future with just a little public support now.

NEW IDEA

surprising amount of political success is good. But politicians don't need to distinguish between luck and actual achievement in their campaigns. They are permitted to take credit both for what they did and what was done for them.

In the assumption that the United States will be rising definitely from the depression by 1936, early users are predicting President Roosevelt's reelection. It will not matter greatly whether President Roosevelt's administration conquered the depression, or whether the cure was effected by a combination of science and luck. Politicians will claim the credit.

It is timely, therefore, to give some thought to the best idea in Washington, expressed briefly as giving business a chance to see what it can do for itself. This is the policy which has moved President Roosevelt and his spokesmen to adopt a more lenient attitude toward business. It is the policy leading recovery before reform.

Finally, it is a confession of unsatisfactory progress as it attempts to prove that the federal government has sufficient power and wisdom to overcome the depression. The government has tried a great many times and will continue to experiment as long as it can obtain money. But the depression lingers. Business must turn back to its own resources to help government. Between them, recovery may be achieved.

is confession undoubtedly will be forgotten by the presidential campaign then offers President Roosevelt an opportunity to claim credit for recovery. His party will claim all the credit, much the embarrassment of the opposition. Furthermore, if recovery be generally acknowledged by 1936, strategists will work.

THE STARS SAY

For Wednesday, November 7

While this may be an active and eventful day in respects, judging by certain lunar figures, yet there will be obstructions, delays, disappointments and generally frustrating circumstances to call for perseverance, indomitable will and wise counsel in order to cope with such adverse situations. As with combines and secret societies, as well as employment, should thrive and there is encouragement for new contracts.

Those whose birthday it is may eventually have a successful and interesting year, with some progress in business and employment, but this after certain tenacious obstacles or difficult situations are disposed of by determination, perseverance and patience as well as good judgment. New contracts may prove intriguing.

A child born on this day should be energetic, practical, industrious and should rise above handicaps to good position and happiness in life.

O. O. McINTYRE

NEW YORK DAY BY DAY

NEW YORK, Nov. 6.—One of New York's most conspicuous celebrity haunts is the inconspicuous East 19th home of the William H. Hamiltons. The place was a stable and carriage house in the days when the Broadway Central featured gutter chairs and Butlin Place was a jungle of dwarf willows.

But inside is the recaptured charm of a lost era. Stairs with white picketed bannisters, little dark closets, an open fire flickering on a Corot, a centered garden with brick walls and a Dutch hangover of gable ends. A library with autographed Kiplings, an Oscar Wilde, Maugham and Michael Arlen.

To intimate the Hamiltons are Anne and Bill. He was a banker with gumption to quit in middle years, an expert linguist at home in world capitals. Anne, although a vibrant modern, is hep to the Victorian graces and when she sounds the chamade everybody comes on the run.

There's no effort to entertain at the Hamiltons. The invited drift smoke-like into chattering groups. Lawrence Tibbett may sing. Fraye and Braggiotti may play. Myra Kingsley may discuss the stars. Irvin Cobb may tell a Paducah honey and Ike Marcossen a travel experience. All are of this ilk.

Broadway was saddened by the passing of Billy Emerich. Sometime ago before he and Billy Seeman married and settled down they were a playboy pair who did much to add to the gaiety of the town. Emerich's bachelor duplex on West 57th street was a haven for importants of the stage and screen world. About six years ago he went to California, married the former Mrs. Norman Kerry, and Broadway saw him no more.

Damon Runyon, among the nattiest of the natty dressers, goes in for slate gray shirts and a four-in-hand of same shade with a barber pole streaking of dull red. Runyon is a spectacular dresser but a master at times of sombre shades. Often he features a black silk handkerchief in his breast pocket, cuff links of black onyx and ebony spats.

Henry Sell is another with a tasty touch in gent's wear with an occasional flair for the bizarre. After suppressed periods he may burst forth in polka dot suits, gray speckled with brown, tan with black and one lulu in deep blue flecked with white dots as big as rubber ends of a lead pencil. Lucius Beebe would beat his breast at a mere glance of it.

New York rarely sees the floor maids of the smart hotels. They are a great city's most obscurely well-to-do living on the roofs. Their pay is not more than $30 a month but board is free and their tips and Christmas gifts run into important money. There is the legend that one is the mother of a famous dancer and one morning, quite by accident, walked into the bedroom of the suite her daughter had just taken. She asked to be transferred to another floor. The daughter never knew.

Nothing so distinguishes a fastidious dresser as the tilt of his hat. Acton Davies once wrote that John Drew's charm was not in the lift of his eyebrow but the slant of his derby. English fashion scribbles are forever decrying the American's sloppy headgear. They have the Prince of Wales! And hatters agree no one can set off a hat like young David. Across the channel in Paris, Jean Pafou achieves a chapeau jauntiness that only a practised stylist masters. Count Salm, who married the Rogers girl, also had a flair for the correct angle, and King Edward's hatter, Gelot, is said to have made Salm's hats free for years. But we are not without our native hat experts. Few achieve the dash of Adolphe Menjou with a silk hat. Warren William and Warner Baxter of the screen almost, but not quite, acquire the soft hat brim dips of the ace hatter, Clive Brook. And New York, of course, has its dandy Jimmy Walker. Or had.

The Value of Oxygen

If you live in a large city you have often noticed red or green automobiles bearing the sign "Emergency—Oxygen." These cars are usually given the right of way because they may be speeding to some one in dire need of oxygen.

Dr. Copeland

Oxygen is successfully used in the treatment of certain cases of pneumonia, heart disease, hyperthyroidism, shock drug and gas poisoning. The use of oxygen as a curative measure was first advanced in 1907. Its great value was truly appreciated during the World war, when wide use was made of it in the treatment of gas poisoning and other lung disturbances. It is now known to be useful in the treatment of any disturbance in which there is insufficient oxygen in the blood.

"Anoxemia" is a condition in which the blood is deficient in oxygen. This commonly occurs as a result of obstruction to the air passages, as in pneumonia, pulmonary diseases, diphtheria and other inflammations of the upper air passages.

Administration Simplified

It is present in severe cases of carbon monoxide poisoning. This form of poisoning is caused by breathing illuminating gas, furnace gas or gas from the exhaust of an automobile. Gas poisoning leads to a deficiency of oxygen in the blood and unless this precious element is supplied death soon occurs.

Anoxemia may also occur as a result of severe hemorrhage, breathing bad air for a long time, severe heart disease or disease of the lungs. The sufferer has a grayish or green pallor. His lips appear blue and his fingers and toes are cold. He seems to be choking for air.

It is only within recent years that the administration of oxygen has been simplified. Many large institutions have so-called "oxygen rooms." They are especially built so that the proportion of oxygen may be maintained at any desired level. As a rule the oxygen concentration is set at about 40 per cent. The humidity and temperature of the room are accurately controlled and the air in the room is kept in constant circulation.

Oxygen Rooms

The doctor and other attendants enter and leave the room by means of a door known as an "air lock." This prevents loss of oxygen from the room. Even the carbon dioxide caused by breathing in the room is absorbed by passing the air over cans containing soda-lime.

Oxygen rooms are not always available. But oxygen can be administered to a patient by inserting a rubber tube into his nose. The tube is changed periodically from one nostril to another. Beneficial results are obtained from this procedure. It is particularly valuable because this method of administration may be used at home. The only requirement is the tank containing oxygen.

Another way of administering oxygen is by means of the so-called "oxygen tent." This consists of a hood of canvas placed over the head of the patient. The oxygen is passed into this tent and the patient breathes a concentrated mixture rich in oxygen. Of course, this method is not as good as the use of the oxygen room, but in an emergency it is of great value.

Delicious Cereal Checked His Constipation

Here is an unsolicited letter from Mr. Daniels:

"For many years I have been habitually constipated, and have used all sorts of laxatives. So, in fairness to Kellogg's ALL-BRAN, I heartily claim it to be a most wonderful remedy for constipation."

"Need I tell you that I have long since ceased using laxatives? Kellogg's ALL-BRAN is the National Natural Laxative. If it were used by every family in the United States for breakfast, we would have a much healthier race of people."—Mr. John Daniels, 1090 Third St., North Bergen, N. J.

Tests show Kellogg's ALL-BRAN furnishes "bulk" to exercise the intestines and vitamin B to help tone the intestinal tract. ALL-BRAN also supplies iron for the blood.

The "bulk" in ALL-BRAN is much like that in leafy vegetables. Isn't this food much pleasanter than risking pills and drugs? Two table-spoonfuls daily are usually sufficient. If not relieved this way, see your doctor.

Naturals Will Be Missing From Grid Battlefronts This Season

There's No Way To Bring Together Major College Teams Which Lead Race

BY ALAN GOULD.
Associated Press Sports Editor
NEW YORK, Nov. 6.—Owing to an almost complete lack of psychic or crystal-gazing powers among college football's schedule-makers, a number of outstanding "naturals" will be missed along the main battlefronts this season.

There's nothing strange about this, inasmuch as most major college games are booked several years in advance, but it must make professional promoters as well as graduate managers tear their hair out to contemplate the fact that there's no way to bring together Alabama and Minnesota, Stanford and Princeton or Rice and Santa Clara unless the Tournament of Roses committee doesn't do something about it for the annual New Year's day classic. Any one of these pairings would pack the house.

Arguments Unsettled
Greater latitude in post-season play would solve a lot of the gridiron arguments usually left over, unsettled, at the end of each campaign. So far, however, academic or traditional barriers have been too strong for willing coaches or players to hurdle, it's no certainty, for instance, that either Minnesota or Princeton would consider an invitation to the Rose Bowl this winter, assuming each finishes the season undefeated as now appears likely. Princeton turned down a bid to play Stanford last New Year's day.

"Natural" In Southwest
Events have combined to produce two conference naturals this week, one bringing together Rice and Arkansas for a decisive southwest battle and other matching Stanford and Washington, both unbeaten, in a tussle for Pacific coast leadership. Two other undefeated teams, Syracuse and Michigan State, are bracketed next Saturday, while another intersectional attraction finds Tulane coming up from the south to battle Colgate's Red Raiders in the Yankee stadium.

These are exceptions, however, in the east, Navy's first unbeaten team in years doesn't meet Princeton, although the two schools have played many times previously. Minnesota is not scheduled with either of its two rivals for Big Ten leadership, Purdue and Illinois. Duke and Washington and Lee, twin pace-setters in the Southern conference, have no way of settling their argument. Similarly, in the southeastern group, Alabama does not play either Tulane or Louisiana, the tide's two rivals for the title.

DIZ AND DAFFY READY TO SIGN NEW PAY PACT

Jerome would Sign Three-Year Contract For $100,000

(By Associated Press)
ST. LOUIS, Nov. 6.—Dizzy Dean, the big gun with the loud report, is expected to talk contract in the six-league classification today with his boss, Sam Breadon, president of the St. Louis Cardinals.

$100,000 For Three Years
Dizzy, his brother, Paul, and Boss Breadon, got together yesterday for what was billed as a friendly chat and nothing more than that came to the surface. But the chat will be resumed today and Dizzy has a proposition. He said he would sign a three-year contract for $100,000.

The pitching Deans, who came into town yesterday after a barnstorming tour that included baseball, the stage and screen, plan to leave today for their home in Florida. Before the good-byes are said, however, there is mutual hope that the contract autographing will have been accomplished.

Paul Is Undecided
Dizzy said emphatically he would not sign for less than $25,000 for the 1935 season. It's either that or the three-year proposition, according to his attitude. Paul said he did not know what he wants for the 1935 season, but it was reported his minimum request would be for $15,000.

Last year Dizzy received $7,500 and Paul, a big league freshman $3,000. They did all the victory pitching for the Cardinals in the recent World Series with Detroit.

Fight In Spain

BARCELONA, Spain, Nov. 6.—The Freddie Miller-Jose Girones featherweight title fight, scheduled for last night, will be held Wednesday night. It was postponed because of unfavorable weather. Miller, of Cincinnati, is recognized as 126-pound champion by the U. S. national boxing association. Girones is the Spanish and European titleholder.

Turley Leads Ohio Scorers

(By Associated Press)
COLUMBUS, Nov. 6.—Of the several thousand youths playing football on Ohio college teams, only 247 today knew the thrill that comes with plunging across the opponent's goal line or booting the ball over the crossbar.

That many have counted some kind of a score.

On a lone eminence at the top of that heap John Turley still stood. A Delaware boy who made good in his own home-town at Ohio Wesleyan university, Turley was not without honor in his own country.

Amasses 75 Points
Thus far this season, to amass a total of 75 points to lead Ohio's scorers, Turley has travelled eight times across the final stripe and has tied the oval 19 times in the proper place to count points, four times for field goals from the field and 15 times for points after touchdowns.

The Bishop quarterback's 75 points ranks him second in the National scoring parade led by Art Strutt, another Ohioan from Mingo Junction, who romps for Duquesne university, at Pittsburgh.

Furthermore, Turley's four field goals total already is one better than last year's national record. He has played in six games. Strutt in seven.

Denison's Foster Next
The nearest competition for Turley in the Ohio field is Foster, of Denison, who has 48 points. He would need to add four touchdowns to his total of eight and kick a field goal or three points after touchdown to catch Turley—if Turley stood still.

In the first 44 places in the scoring list, Ohio Wesleyan placed five men, Ohio State four, and Denison, Xavier, and Wilberforce three each.

Jenkins of Denison followed Foster with 42 points, tied with Goldsmith of Baldwin-Wallace.

Heekin Leads At State
Heekin of Ohio State led the Buckeye scorers with six touchdowns for a total of 36.

Undefeated In Ohio

COLUMBUS, Nov. 6.—If somebody had ventured on Nov. 5, 1933, to predict that one year forward Ohio Northern and Denison would have the only unbeaten college football teams in Ohio, he would have been laughed down heartily.

But it came to pass. Today Ohio Northern has won five consecutive games and its goal line has not been punctured. Denison has won five games and tied one. Last week Northern trimmed Wittenberg 7 to 0 and Denison defeated Otterbein 26 to 0.

Bargains are plentiful. The ads will tell you where.

Look Out For This High Stepping Illini Half

Stepping high, wide and handsome, Les Lindberg, Illinois halfback, is expected to be one of the scoring stars of the season in the Big Ten.

MOUNT POINTS FOR WOOSTER

Coach Geltz Satisfied With New Backfield Combination

ALLIANCE, Nov. 6.—Having come through their 12 to 7 conquest of Marietta in good shape, Mount Union college gridgers today began the serious preparation for the invasion of Wooster's mighty Scots here Saturday.

Wooster turned back a strong Muskingum eleven, 22 to 14, and is riding the crest in the Ohio conference race with a string of five straight victories. The Mounts have won three of their four conference games, defeating Bowling Green, Hiram and Marietta while losing only to Muskingum.

Backfield Satisfied
Coach Harry Geltz was well satisfied with his new backfield combination against the Pioneers of Marietta Saturday. Frank Hendricks, who alternated at quarterback with Ed Becker paved the way for the second score by placing a punt out of bounds on the Marietta 1-yard line.

Perroni Outpoints Hans Birkie In 10

Newark, N. J. — Patsy Perroni, 183½, Cleveland, outpointed Hans Birkie, 193½, at Oakland, Calif., last night in a bout that went 10 rounds.

Holyoke, Mass. — Johnny Rossi, 160½, Worcester, Mass., outpointed Charley Weise, 161½, Brooklyn, (8); Dominick (Kid) Nico, 126½, New York, outpointed Charley Turco, 126½, Worcester, (8).

Chicago — Corn Griffin, 188, Columbus, Ga., outpointed Adolph Walter, 187, Green Bay, Wis., (8); Dave Barry, 125½, Springfield, Ill., outpointed Mickey Beal, 123½, Chicago, (8).

Charlotte, N. C. — Salvatore Ruggerio, 209, New York, won on technical knock out from Dewey Kiney, 206, Charlotte, (4); Syracuse, N. Y. — Eddie Risko, 161, Syracuse, knocked out Freddie Salus, 171, Syracuse, (8).

Wife of Ohio State's Coach Believes Fountain of Youth the College Campus

Associated Press Sports Writer

COLUMBUS, Nov. 6.—Mrs. Francis A. Schmidt, wife of Ohio State's football coach, has found the formula for staying young.

She doesn't need the formula for herself, for the twinkle is still in her eye and the bloom of real youth in her cheek, but she passes her discovery on to those who are beginning to feel the weight of years.

It's College Campus
The college campus, she believes, is the nearest approach to the real "fountain of youth."

And because her husband's job gives her the opportunity to meet new young people all the time—Ponce De Leon sought the answer centuries ago.

Columbiana's Undefeated Red-White To Play Boardman in Season's Final

COLUMBIANA, Nov. 6.—Columbiana's undefeated red and white will take the field at Boardman Saturday afternoon in the finale of the local's short season.

Coach Jimmy Wland's crew has kept enemy teams to only two touchdowns this season, those by Courtland and Leota.

Columbiana will be meeting an experienced eleven in Boardman and rigid practice this week is expected to put the red and white in trim for the encounter.

Dolansky Out For Rest Of Season

Joe Dolansky, brilliant Quaker end, will be out of the lineup for the rest of the season, having broke a bone in his foot in the game Friday night with Niles.

Bear to Play Lions

CHICAGO, Nov. 6.—With the Chicago Bears and Detroit Lions rolling over all opposition, there appears little prospect for settlement of their National professional football league leadership battle until they run into each other Thanksgiving day.

STATE-CHICAGO GAME SHOULD BE THRILLER

Both Strong Offensively And Each Boasts One Outstanding Back

COLUMBUS, Nov. 6.—Hardly ruffled from their 70 to 0 runaway against Western Reserve Saturday, Ohio State's gridiron gallopers today took up where they left off for the Cleveland breather and began a series of intensive drills for a visit from the University of Chicago this week-end.

The Chicago encounter next Saturday, which will be the first meeting of the two schools in a football game in Ohio stadium here in the last six years, is expected to be one of the best games of the season here.

Practices Similar
Chicago and Ohio both play practically the same kind of football. Their offenses are their best defenses. In addition, each team boasts a potential All-American backfield man—Jay Berwanger for the Maroons and Dick Heekin for the Buckeyes.

Besides these inducements, both elevens will be battling for a mathematical chance at the Western Conference crown.

MALCOLM PLANS NEW SPEED TRY

British Driver To Make Record Attempt In January

(By International News Service)
DAYTONA BEACH, Fla. — Sir Malcolm Campbell, monarch of the automobile speed realm, will arrive here sometime in January to try and break his own straightaway record of 272.108 miles per hour established in 1933 over Ocean Speedway.

The Britisher's 1935 endeavor to boost the world's land speed mark will be his fifth. Four times, beginning with 1928, Campbell has been successful in adding a few miles an hour to the slowly but surely climbing rate.

Heart Set on Record
Over a quarter of a century ago, it was said, Sir Malcolm set his heart on being the first man to race over the ground at five miles a minute, and in this his supposedly final attempt, he hopes to achieve that rate of speed.

According to information, the 1935 edition of "Bluebird" will be the incorporation of observations gained in Campbell's four trials here. Chief among the changes is that she will roll on six wheels instead of the usual four.

Disappointed In 1933
In 1933, Sir Malcolm was sorely disappointed in the fact that he did not reach the 300 mark. It was pointed out that his failure was due to slippage of the driving wheels. So, in order to overcome this waste of power, the traction surface of "Bluebird V" will be double that which former creations boasted.

Too, the additional wheels will help stabilize the car, for with the forward motion impulse of the rear wheels doubled, the tendency to skid sideways will be reduced by half.

It is not known just how Sir Malcolm's latest vehicle will look. However, he stated to Henry McLemore, United Press correspondent, that it would be the ultimate in streamlining which will reduce as much as possible resistance of head winds and quartering winds. It is to be deduced from this that "Bluebird V" will be similar to its immediate predecessor.

Chip Off Old Block

ATLANTA, Nov. 6.—Papa Jim Bagby, a hurling hero of the 1930 World Series, is heading Jim, Jr., for the majors.

A senior in high school, young Bagby, a strapping youngster of more than 6 feet and scaling around 165 pounds, was 18 years old last September. He plans to forego a college education to cast his lot on the diamond.

COLUMBUS, O.—The Ohio penitentiary news, a "House organ" for inmates, carries this item in its local happenings column: "For sale: one over one system of contract bridge and 1934 edition to Culbertson's bids and responses, both reasonably priced." Appended is the name and number of the convict wishing to sell.

Mighty Mite

JOHN MATTHEWS QUARTERBACK

Lack of weight is the only thing that is keeping John Matthews, of Ashland, from being one of the stars of this year's Ohio Wesleyan football team.

Matthews has everything a gridder should possess, except weight. He scales at only 130 pounds and is only 5 feet, 7 inches in height. He is a 10-second runner, a good punter, and an exceptionally good field general. Although small, he never seems to get hurt and in three years of college football has never had a time out for injury.

He won his "W" last season as a quarterback, but has found difficulty this year in breaking into the lineup due to the great work of John Turley, the state's leading scorer, who plays the quarterback position for the Bishops.

Matthews will get his chance, however, next Saturday when he will captain the Bishop eleven against Denison at Delaware.

Wrestling Results

Buffalo — Jim Browning, 236, threw Count Zaryoff, 205, Russia, one fall.
